

The Auckland Orienteer

December 2006

Cover

The cartoon on the cover is a pictorial metaphor for the last issue this year - that is me at the finish and the feet poking out from under the first aid tent are Madeleine's who is in recovery mode. The cartoon is part of an A3 poster of orienteering cartoons used for advertising a three day Central Club event in the Lake Kereta area of Woodhill forest as part of APOC 1994.

The Auckland Orienteer is the magazine of the Auckland Orienteering Association and incorporates articles from the Auckland Orienteering Club Inc., the North West Orienteering Club Inc. and the Counties-Manukau Orienteering Club.

It is produced monthly and is available online from the NWOC homepage.

Other orienteering related publications are welcome to draw material from the magazine although credit is asked for both the author, if stated, and the magazine.

Editorial

Features in this issue are the complete record of OY points for the year and a reprint of an article on dehydration by Rob Crawford. The latter is timely given that we are heading into summer and warns against assuming that dehydration is not possible in cool conditions. It provides important information in an entertaining manner so make sure you read it.

The end of the year and a new editor seems an appropriate time to review the operation of this magazine. I have, therefore, included a survey to obtain your opinion on some matters of interest to me and to provide an opportunity for you to comment on any other aspects of the magazine.

Thanks to all the contributors to the magazine throughout the year and particularly to the recently resigned editor Madeleine Collins. The following list is the cast that brought you your monthly read this year in order of appearance: Gay Ambler, Craig Pearce, Thomas Reynolds, John Powell, Neil Kerrison, Michael Wood, Martin Peat, Mel Wise, Peter Godfrey, Simon Jager, Shaun Collins, Greta Knarston, Mark Lawson, Jill Dalton, Selwyn Palmer and Lesley Stone.

The next issue is in February next year. Best wishes for the Xmas and New Year.

Coaching Forum

This is some advanced warning of an NZOF Coaching Forum organised by Darren Ashmore which will be held on the weekend of 27/28 January 2007. The location will be somewhere in central Auckland on the 27th and then out in a forest near Auckland on the 28th. Details of times, where, what...etc are still being confirmed. Assume the times will be roughly 9-5 on both days.

A brief overview of what will be covered –

- Club coaching programmes – getting a coaching structure in place that will suit your club and its members
- Developing orienteering in schools – why, how, who...
- Training activities and techniques for all levels
- Lunch, maps, resources...etc will be provided on both days.

The forum is open to anyone interested in coaching and the NZOF will be covering the costs, including petrol, of one person from each club to attend. Ideally this person is the club coaching co-ordinator or a senior level coach, but is open to all those interested.

Consult your club secretary if interested in participating.

CHANGE OF VICE PRESIDENT

Following his decision in July to stand down as President, Rob Crawford has now resigned from the NZOF Council in full. At its meeting this month, the Council co-opted Graham Fortune (Wellington) as Vice-President to Paul Dalton.

The NZOF thanks Rob for the sterling service he has given to our sport in his lengthy term on the NZOF Executive.

FUTURE OF THE TECHNICAL COMMITTEE

The NZOF Council has decided to re-organise the administration of technical matters in our sport. Accordingly, from the beginning of 2007, the Technical Committee is to be replaced by a part-time contract Technical Director, assisted by a volunteer advisory panel.

JWOC 2007

The NZOF Council approved a change to the JWOC selection policy for 2007. The date for final selection of the 2007 team has been extended past 28 February to within two weeks following Easter.

NATIONAL EVENTS DATABASE

The NZOF has adopted the national events database, developed on the maptalk website, as an official event calendar. An agreement has been signed with Fraser Mills, owner of the maptalk website. Clubs will be contacted separately regarding using the events database (www.maptalk.co.nz) for 2007 and beyond.

CLUB AFFILIATION LEVIES FOR 2007

In line with the policy set by the 2001 AGM that club affiliation levies are to be "inflation linked", the total levy across all clubs for 2007 will be $14,100 (up from $13,600 this year).

COMPETITION RULE CHANGES

The following rule changes, recommended by the Technical Committee, have been endorsed.

- That for the national inter-club relay championships, each team must contain at least one woman.
- That the controller accreditation process be primarily based on a "buddy system".
- That event reporting be by the controller rather than the coordinator.

Changes involving course structure (including an additional course for older classes and changes to expected winning times) will be circulated for further discussion.

NATIONAL MTBO CHAMPIONSHIPS

A record entry competed in this year's NZ Mountain Bike Orienteering Championships hosted by Peninsula and Plains Orienteers at Hanmer Springs, 2-3 September. Well done to PAPO and in particular Roz and Andy Clayton and Graham Frith.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The NZOF acknowledges, with appreciation, a grant from the New Zealand Community Trust to assist the NZ Schools team's tour to Australia for the Australian Schools Championships. The team competes against the eight Australian states for the Southern Cross Challenge Trophy on October 3rd and 4th.

AGM 2007

The 2007 Annual General Meeting of the NZOF will be held on Friday 6 April at Wesley College, Pukekohe.

Counties Chit Chat

By Greta Knarston

Summer is almost here! Not that we would have known it at Wellington Champs. The small Counties contingent that tramped down to Wanganui were drenched on two of the three days but still managed some very impressive results.

I made a good choice in catching a ride down with Nicola and Martin Peat. Our accommodation, their horse float, enabled Nicola and I to go back to bed once we arrived at the event in time for Martin's start times. I may invest in something similar in the future as this idea really appealed to me but I might add in four wheel drive and surround sound.

Wellington Champs 06

Well done also to the Orienteering finalists for the ASB Young Sportsperson Awards. The two winners were the very deserving Nicola Peat and Thomas Reynolds. Tom also won the mountain-biking category and was nominated for the Sportsman of the Year award and is one of about seven nominees for the most prestigious award at secondary school level. He and Simon Jager were also both awarded dux of their respective schools. I'm very proud to be able to call myself an orienteer with those kind of accolades in the sport.

The club AGM is coming up on Sunday 3rd of December

- 3pm Orienteering at Roosevelt Park
- 4.30pm AGM at A&P Showgrounds building
- 5.30pm Potluck dinner (bring a plate) and WOC/JWOC presentations by Tania, James and Alastair
- Finish 6pm

Good luck to all those sitting exams, hopefully you are a little better prepared than I am feeling at the moment.

North West News

By Lesley Stone

The year is now winding down with the finish of the OYs and championship events. Plenty of park and summer events to go to if you feel withdrawal symptoms starting.

Results

Well done to Mark Lawson who won the first Urban Rogaine from Devonport to Milford; held in miserable weather. Mark took part in the 4 hour event and missed only 4 of the 45 controls on offer.

Dianne Taylor and Yett Gelderman tied for 3rd in the women's 2 hour rogaine,. Phil White and Anne Mortimer won the 2hr team event while young guns Gene Beveridge and Matthew Ogden were 3rd. These guys are going to be worth watching as the years progress - unless of course they discover the social scene and girls!!!

From the better late than never file

Dave Melrose and Tania Robinson (CMOC) have been making headlines at various design awards ceremonies for their Waiwera Infinity Water packaging. Earlier in the year their plastic bottle won Gold in the USA and more recently their glass bottle beat over 135 entries to win the Design Awards Competition held in Italy. Congratulations- no wonder we haven't seen you out in the forest recently Dave.

Awards and grants

At a very swept up ceremony on the North Shore last month, awards and cash grants were presented to young talent in the arts, sports and education fields. Thomas Reynolds was a joint winner in the Emerging Talent in Education category. What wonderful recognition. Thomas along with Matthew Ng Wai Shing also received cash grants for Top Auckland Scholars earlier in October.

Not to be outdone the North West prize-giving and dinner is on December 3rd. A chance for us lesser mortals to shine! Next year I shall be scouting for news for this column, so if you see me advancing on you pen and paper in hand don't be shy. If you have any snippets of news share them with us.

Meanwhile until next year have a relaxing holiday break.

Age group: A group of people 4 years younger, twice as lean and 25cm taller than you.

Ankle: Foolproof excuse for a poor performance as in 'Oh, I did an ankle' or 'Ankle's playing up again'.

Athletes: Mystical beings rumoured to train. Attack point Stage one is at when followed by another while competing.

Badges: Black and white burrowing animals.

Bearing: What Scandinavian orienteers do in full view after competing.

Auckland Chatter

Congratulations to Simon Jager who is the 2006 Dux of Mt Roskill Grammar school. His sporting achievements were taken into account when the decision about this award was made.

Simon is the 2nd member of the club this year to have been awarded the school dux. Imogene Scott was awarded this at the Auckland International College earlier in the year.

The summer series is in full swing. We have been impressed by the numbers of people who have been attending these events. The first event in the domain was a record for us. The queue for buying a season ticket was much longer than we had expected. A large number of people chose to buy a season ticket and they will find that getting a map will be much easier for all other future events. While we apologise to those who waited longer than they would have liked, the wait, I am sure, will prove to have been worth it.

For next year we hope to have further improvements to the Summer Series organisation. There are a couple of ideas we have been thinking about:

- ordering and possibly paying for your season pass online.

- using SPORTident for determining the total time while still using clip cards. This would make getting results out a quicker affair and mean that there would be no need for competitors to demonstrate their ability to subtract one number from another in base 60, that is, work out their own times.

The Summer Series also attracts new people to the sport. So far the following people have become members since the summer series began:

Tania Dixon, Megan McGregor, Anna Wilson, Cath Heppelthwaite, Mel Hughes, Alan Verry, Fiona Mayhill, Shane & Carolyn Blackett, the Greaves family, Richard Christine & Carol Diamond, the Spencer Edgar family, the Davis Warriner family, Mathew Reynolds, Evelyn Body, and the Kestle family

I would also like to welcome the following people to the club who have become members while we had a break in the publishing of the magazine: Rose Crozier and Marcus Lundagards. Marcus will be with us until mid 2007 while he furthers his studies.

On the other side of the ledger we say farewell to Steve Hardy & Karen Vines who have returned to the UK.

As the summer draws to an end next year I hope see you all in the forest. Running in the parks of the city is quite fun but the real challenge of this sport begins when you enter the forest. Feel free to ask advice from the old hands in the sport. A little encouragement and know-how will take you a long way

The AGM will have been held by the time you get to read this. An exciting time ahead to those who become committee members.

I am retiring as president this year and thank this year's committee for all the hard work they have undertaken for the good of the sport and for the benefit of all our members.

To everyone, I wish you a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Dehydration

By Rob Crawford

(Reprint from note to NZOF D Squad, 1996)

As summer approaches, it is timely to remember to ensure you get sufficient fluid into your system during the day, especially if you are training hard.

I had a slightly unnerving experience at the Tasmanian Championships which gave me a sharp reminder that you can only race well with a sufficiently hydrated body. A dehydrated body is opening yourself up for trouble and your body only needs 2% less than normal before you get into problems.

The day of the Tasmanian Championships was cold, grey and wet. The temperature was about 10 degrees and my main worry was should I wear a polyprop top or not - in the end I did which in hindsight turned out to be wise. I certainly wasn't worried about fluids - after all, it wasn't hot was it?

My other worry was running with a half cast on my right arm, having badly cut my hand 10 days previously (how is another story) and damaging the nerves in my thumb.

The race

The race started off like any other race - into the groove, picked up the guy 2 minutes in front of me at 2 which was nice - ran more or less together to 10 (a drinks stop). Here I was presented with a dilemma - to have a drink would require me putting my map and compass down and unscrewing a bottle with my left and only available, hand.

As I didn't feel thirsty and the day wasn't hot, I didn't bother.

Made a mistake on the way to 11 and got picked up by the guy 4 minutes behind, and then Darren two-thirds of the way around. It was here I started to feel not quite right, but I shook it off as the effects of not having trained properly for the previous week and a half.

Hills

Then I came to a hill and didn't have the energy to run up it. I looked at my watch - 65 minutes into the race - surely I haven't run out of puff already? Convinced myself I was OK at the top and ran down a spur into the open where we had a couple of controls. Came to the next hill and was absolutely stuffed, and I had also started to cramp in the hamstrings. As there were only 5 controls to go, I decided to carry on (a mistake), and walking in the open into a biting wind, I started to feel very cold very quickly.

Managed to run into the forest on the last longish leg - although about 10 degrees off course - still don't know how I picked up the mistake as I remember finding it very difficult to concentrate.

Collapse

Then on the next leg I remember feeling like passing out, so walked the last 2 legs home before jogging down the finish chute feeling very much the worse for wear. As I was very cold and unsteady on my feet, I asked a guy to walk with me back to the car (some 500 metres away). After a couple of minutes

I felt my legs buckle underneath and he supported me the rest of the way. Back at the car I was thankful my travelling companions Dr. Weeks and Nurse Dalton were there, and by the time I was changed and wrapped up in anything we could find in the back seat I was shivering uncontrollably.

Time to rehydrate - some water, then a litre and a half of Gatorade, followed by a litre of pumpkin soup and more water. On the way home I bought a litre and a half of soft drink and that was mostly gone by the time the hour's journey was finished. No, nothing had come out the other end and nothing did until the evening by which time I estimate I had drunk well over 4 litres of fluid.

The lessons

I hadn't drunk enough in the 2-3 days prior to the race - I didn't trust the water where we staying and I wasn't drinking enough of anything else. I had also had some alcohol in the 2-3 days prior, which also dehydrates you.

It wasn't a hot day, so fluid wasn't as important, right? WRONG! Being thirsty is not an indicator of dehydration - I got fooled by this. Being a little out of condition due to the previous 10 days meant that the race was harder on my system than usual, which made fluid intake even more important, but got ignored.

So, make sure you don't suffer the same fate, especially in a race that is important to you. I fell victim to a combination of circumstances, and it has taught me that you have to be conscious about your fluid intake all the time.

Happy drinking (water that is).

From the archives

By John Powell

The December 1996 magazine had an unusually large number of letters. Stan Foster had three - one on anomalies in the OY competition, another on an apparent anomaly in the Northern Regional League points and a complaint about the 1997 programme. Forming a NWOC complaint trifecta, Lorrie O'Brien and Lesley Stone complained about the lack of detail and poor production quality of the Auckland Championships programme and results booklet.

Annemarie Jutel gave a spirited response to Michael Wood's criticism of the statements in her book suggesting that if you do not stretch now and you are not injured, then do not bother stretching at all.

WHO had a three course event in the Mangawhai coastal pine and sand dune forest. Summer series events were held at the Auckland Domain, Mt Eden and Western Springs.

Central club changed its name to Auckland at its AGM. The incoming AOC committee was Clare Codling, Tom Davies, Leon McGivern, Terry Nuthall, Selwyn Palmer, John and Rae Powell.

The incoming NWOC committee was Ann Fettes, Marquita Gelderman, Mark Lawson, Geoff Mead, Dave Middleton, Lesley Stone and Rolf Wagner.

Survey

From the editor

The end of the year with a new editor seems appropriate timing for a review of the operation of this magazine. I would appreciate it if you would complete the survey below and email your responses to me at rae.jon@pl.net or by mail to 23A Fernleigh Avenue, Royal Oak if you wish to remain anonymous. I will report the results in the February magazine so you should get your response to me by January 15.

Club committees could also provide feedback from the point of view of club administrators rather than individual orienteers if that seems appropriate and worthwhile.

Cook –O -Tofu and Veg Burgers

100g (4oz) broccoli florets (or other greens)
 15g (1/2 oz) butter
 200g (7oz) mushrooms, roughly chopped
 1 clove garlic, crushed
 1x285g packet firm tofu
 100g unsalted cashew nuts

3 spring onions finely sliced
 1 med carrot finely grated
 100g fresh breadcrumbs
 1 tbsp oyster sauce
 1 tbsp honey
 salt and fresh ground black pepper flour for coating
 veg oil

Blanch broccoli in lightly salted boiling water or microwave with a tablespoon water until tender. Melt butter in the frying pan and saute the mushroom and garlic until softened (3-4 minutes). Transfer to food processor with the broccoli and all the other burger ingredients. Process until mixed and season with salt and pepper. I might add some chopped fresh coriander, a bit of Chinese five-spice and perhaps a bit of grated ginger.

Form into 8 burgers, coat in flour and saute over a medium heat until golden (2-3 minutes on each side).

This is a very simple recipe and I made a sauce by cooking red lentils with cumin. Hope you enjoy.
